EXCERPTS FROM A LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GIVEN AT GLENDALE HIGH SCHOOL

An audience which completely filled the Glendale High School Auditorium last Monday evening, listened to a lecture on Christian Science by George Shaw Cook, C. S. B., of Chicago.

Mr. Russell Kilgore, First Reader of the local Christian Science Church, introduced the speaker as follows:

"Centuries ago men were looking forward to the appearing of a Saviour, to the coming of the Christ that had been promised by sage and prophet. 'In answer to the need of the age the Saviour came, and has been known to the world as Jesus, the Christ. 'His ministry was attended by many wonderful works. He fed the multitude, comforted the sorrowing, cleansed the lepers, cast out devils, healed the sick and raised the dead.

"He asked to be judged by his works and commanded his followers to do these same works. 'Centuries later, Mary Baker Eddy, in establishing the Christian Science Church, named its purpose to be, 'To commemorate the words and works of our Master, which should reinstate primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing.' Certainly such a church was in answer to the need of this late age, and it came, too, asking to be judged by its works.

"For a period of nearly 50 years now, it has been tested and tried and multitudes who have been healed by its ministry joyfully testify that it has fulfilled the promises of the Founder. So today, few subjects are receiving so much thoughtful consideration as the subject of Christian Science.

"We are therefore favored in having with us this evening a gentleman who is both authorized and qualified to speak with authority on this subject, a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., who comes in response to an invitation from the local branch church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Glendale. I am pleased to introduce Mr. George Shaw Cook, C. S. B., of Chicago, Ill."

Following is a brief synopsis of the lecture delivered by Mr. Cook:

Human emotions, such as fear, anger, worry, hatred, etc., are now said to produce poisonous conditions on or in the physical body. If this is so may not many cases of chronic poisoning in the human system be traceable to a chronic disposition to give way to the emotions? If one is obliged to admit the mental cause of some kinds of physical disease, why not agree with Christian Science that, primarily, all disease is due to a mental cause? This does not mean that all disease is the result of conscious fear or of willful sin. Many types of disease are effects of latent fear, hereditary temperament, superstition, ignorance, or some of the generally accepted beliefs of the human mind which seem to operate as law. Suppose a man to be sick from one or more of these mental causes. Will drugs cure him? Is there any antidote that will destroy hatred, or any serum that will prevent fear? Nothing but the knowledge that God is Love and that man as the image of God is in reality nothing less than the expression of Love, and therefore cannot and does not fear or hate, will effect a permanent cure in such a case.

All that is real exists as the effect of an intelligent cause, divine Mind. One has only to look at a badly frightened person to see that he manifests little or no intelligence while under the sway of fear. Therefore, we may conclude that fear is not the manifestation of an intelligent cause. It is plain that if one could be free from fear it would be greatly to his advantage. Many are ready to point out the evil effects of fear. They are even quite ready to urge their friends not to be afraid, but they are not always able to tell them why they have no need to fear.

Christian Scientists having discerned the fact that fear is not an attribute of God, are beginning to understand why it is no part of man, who is in the likeness of God. They reason that God is the old cause and is good. Fear is not good. Therefore, it is not the effect of the one only cause and consequently is without actual existence. There is no fear in the universe of God and nothing in that universe of which man could be afraid. There is no good in fear, for "fear hath torment," hence there is no God in it, and no truth in it. Christian Scientists do not, however, claim to have demonstrated as yet that they are entirely immune from fear; but they are much less fearful than formerly, and consequently, much less subject to disease and disaster.

Christian Science teaches its adherents to "pray without ceasing," and constantly to seek a higher and better understanding of the true nature of God, and of man as His likeness. Furthermore, it requires the demonstration of this understanding in right thinking and right living. Such thinking results in the lessening of sin and disease. This is the practical atonement to which Mrs. Eddy refers as "the exemplification of man's unity with God," (Science and Health, p. 18.) Christian Scientists believe that in no other way can they realize the full import of what has been mistakenly regarded as the vicarious atonement of Christ Jesus, but which was in fact the perfect demonstration of man's at-onement with God.

Those who are familiar with the true nature of Christian Science know that it is quite unlike every form of mesmerism. It even differs from what is ordinarily referred to as "faith cure." While Jesus in his ministry often required faith of those who were seeking to be healed, and Christian Science teaches that faith is in itself a desirable quality, yet something more than the exercise of what may be termed "blind faith" is involved in the practice of true Christian Science. The "prayer to faith" as understood in Christian Science is in fact the prayer of spiritual understanding. This prayer is the exact opposite of that form of mental treatment which consists in the exercise of human will-power or the effort of one person to control or influence the thoughts of another by means of mesmerism or mental suggestion.

The prayer or treatment of the Christian Scientist is based upon his spiritual discernment of the fact that there is but one Mind. The mesmerist's endeavors are based upon the belief that there are minds many and that one of these many minds can influence another for good or evil. Herein lies the danger of mesmerism or mental suggestion; whereas the safety of Christian Science practice consists in its entire dependence upon the power of one infinite Mind, the effect of which can be only good.

Mary Baker Eddy did not invent anything in her discovery of Christian Science. She did not add to that which already was. She discovered the Principle underlying the spiritual healing of physical disease by the prophets, by Christ Jesus, and by the early Christians. As the result of her discovery she was able to restore to the world not only the Science of healing but the Science of being.

Mrs. Eddy saw the fruition of her life-work and the extension of the movement which she founded in every part of the civilized world.

Mrs. Eddy has been declared by the Governor of her native State to have been New Hampshire's greatest woman, and truly she may be so regarded by reason of her achievements. But of all her wonderful works, that for which Christian Scientists revere and love her most is her discovery, and declaration, and demonstration of the life-giving truth that God is good. Therefore they say to you, "Acquaint now thyself with him, and be at peace" (Job xxii. 21).

The Sunday School of the Presbyterian church are making big preparations for their Christmas entertainment, which is to be held Thursday evening, Dec. 23, at 7:30 o'clock.

The balloting ended in the following list of new officers elected for the ensuing year:

TROPICO WATER SERVICE MATTERS BEFORE RAILROAD COMMISSION

It was developed in the hearing before the Railroad Commission of California, had in the Council Chamber of the City Hall on Monday last, in substance as follows:

That, when the Tropico Water Service System was turned over to the Title Guarantee and Trust Company as Trustee of the Bondholders of the Glendale Consolidated Water Company, Nov. 1, 1912 (the Tropico Water District was entitled to receive 1,740,000, equaling 1,803,320 cubic feet, of the flow of Verdugo Canyon water for its domestic, irrigation and other useful purposes per month, with an earning capacity from sales to rate-payers to 772 services at $1.25 per service of 800 cubic feet per service and 7 cents per service of 100 cubic feet per month extra, of $1,795 per month.

That of this 1,740,000, the Tropico District is now, Nov. 1, 1915, entitled to receive 1,260,750,000, of which 237.59 shares stand in the name of individual owners and 1,004.59 shares in the name of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company as trustee.

That Nov. 1, 1912, the Tropico Water Service System was turned over to L. C. Brand for the sum of $27,000. That Nov. 6, 1912, the property interests of the Glendale Consolidated Water Company in the system were turned over to the Title Guarantee and Trust Company as trustee of the bondholders of the Glendale Consolidated Water Company and that all such interests have been transferred to the City of Glendale.

That the remaining fragment of the Tropico Water Service System is held and operated by the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, and that the cost of the entire system to the beneficiary of the trust, Nov. 1, 1912, was $27,000.

That since Nov. 1, 1912, the Title Guarantee and Trust Company has been at no expense, at its own proper cost, for maintenance.

That all costs for repairs and maintenance have been met with moneys received from charges for services and installations of meters.

That the earning capacity of the system from the systems remaining, 1,260.75 shares, equaling 1,260,368 cubic feet per month of the flow of the canyon belonging in the Tropico District, for services at present rates is $1,337.13 per month.

That the system may now be purchased by the City from the Title Guarantee and Trust Company as trustee, for $50,000 in 5.5% bonds of the City.

That the further hearing of the petition before the Railroad Commission to fix service rates was continued until such time as it shall be determined by vote of the qualified electors of the City whether the bonds of the City shall be authorized to issue for the purchase of the system.

The petition before the commission was presented by N. C. Burch.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS MINSTRELS GIVE TWO PERFORMANCES TO CROWDED HOUSES

The Knights of Pythias' Merry Minstrels has come and went and everybody who took part and everybody who was fortunate enough to attend are satisfied.

Under the directorship of Edw. Shipman the production was presented without a flaw. A full stage equipment was used and a full orchestra furnished the music.

As interloper, Wayne Frank made his maiden appearance before an audience as an actor and proved his ability.

Noble Ripley and Harry Schaeffer, past masters in the art of producing laughs, were assisted by Edw. Shuey and Robert Danner as end men, and when no applause was forthcoming they "rose in their chairs to ask why."

The chorus was composed of Mrs. S. L. Griswold, Mrs. Al Cunningham, Mrs. Harry Schaeffer, Miss Amy Miller, Geo. Peck and Chas. Allen. The entire chorus are to be commended for their work.

The musical numbers with Mrs. A. J. McAdams at the piano all brought applause. Especial attention is called to the willingness with which the ladies tendered their services toward making the play a success. Mrs. S. L. Griswold rendered her numbers like a professional.

The olio was also worthy of particular mention. The program was unavoidably rearranged and outside help was called upon in the person of Jas. V. Griffin, whose appearance was an agreeable surprise to everyone. Mr. Griffin is a graduate from the professional stage and his versatile readings have won for him a warm spot in the hearts of Tropicans. The pleasing way in which he depicts his characters holds his audience from start to finish and he was compelled to answer to several encores.

Another act in the olio was appreciated by the K. P.'s as well as the audience. Mr. John Stathem, in his tramp monologue touching upon the topics of the day. John Stathem has a long list of admirers in Tropico and his willingness to help out shows that while his home is in Los Angeles he "kinda likes Tropico." His act was a laugh and every movement he makes is a laugh. As a monologist he is hard to beat.

The evening closed with a screaming funny act-piece that took from the start.

Following is the program as rendered, both evenings:

SUNDAY'S BALL GAME BEST PLAYED ON LOCAL GROUNDS THIS YEAR

Last Sunday's game on the Playground diamond was no doubt the prettiest and best matched game that has ever been played in Tropico. The visitors, "Pennants," were in fine condition and our boys were also in bat, the form and for 13 innings, or until darkness made further progress impossible the boys battled for a run that would make one side winner. The game was called with a score of 4 to 4 and a promise for a return match on Sunday week.

The battery for the Pennants were Susa and Brice; Tropico, Bradford and Rice.

Dr. Wm. C. Mabry is putting the grounds in shape for "Soccer," and a game will be scheduled very soon. The proceeds from concessions on Thanksgiving Day are being used to this end.

POULTRY SHOW ENTRIES

Among those who have registered their entries at the Glendale-Tropico Poultry and Pet Stock show are Irving H. Oliver, of Acacia street, Silver Campines, Light Sussex; H. L. Gill, of Glendale avenue, 13 Barred Rocks. Mr. Gill won most of the prizes at last year's show, which was held in Tropico. Richard Mitchell, of Dumbarton street, Silver Wyandottes; Mrs. E. C. Stephenson, Moore avenue, Partridge Rocks; Mrs. E. N. Strong, Moore avenue Rose Comb Black Minorcas; John P. Alexander, Acacia street, Black Orpingtons and Brown Leghorns; William Harvey, Jr., Tropico avenue, Partridge Rocks; Harold Ryerson, Madison Court, Wild Mallard Ducks, Golden Seabright Bantams, White Carneaux Pigeons, Chinese Ring Neck Pheasants and Golden Pheasants; Miss Marjorie Imler, West Park avenue, Orange Persian Cat and Blue Persian Kitten.

MAGNOLIA AVE. SCHOOL SURPRISED WITH A NEW PIANO

Last Thursday afternoon Miss Saxton, teacher at the Magnolia Avenue school, and her scholars were very much surprised and delighted when a truck pulled up and unloaded a piano. This instrument has been greatly needed and very much desired for some time, but no means whereby the financial end could be arranged had been forthcoming. The parents of this district, under the leadership of Mrs. Bacon, finally solved the problem and now each member has pledged himself to contribute 25 cents per month to pay for the piano. However, larger sums are needed and gifts are in order from any person who feels that he can afford to help this worthy cause.

The vacant room in the building will be arranged for private dances under chaperonage.

DRIVER BADLY INJURED

Last Tuesday morning a Ford car owned by Mr. R. Austin of the Hollywood City Dye Works, and driven by Mr. Leonard Collier, was struck by south-bound Southern Pacific passenger train No. 76 at the Tropico avenue crossing and completely demolished. The driver was taken to the Mission Hospital badly injured about the head and shoulders and probably losing the sight of one eye.

Mr. Collier stated that the bell was not ringing and no signals were working. The passenger train backed up and many witnesses can testify that the bell did not ring.

The danger signal has been a subject of much discussion at this intersection and in all probability other measures for protection will be installed by the company at once.

Was It Spirit Or Illusion?

By F. A. MITCHEL

There is nothing so strong in nature as the chains that draw two persons together, and nothing better typifies it than two vines that originally could have been broken apart by a child's delicate fingers, each becoming after a lapse of, say, half a century as large as an athlete's biceps and much harder to bend.

The most remarkable case of this kind came under my observation. I will relate the story.

Donald Gregory, when he was too young to remember the fact, became a playmate of a little girl about his own age, Ella Marston. Their parents' places were side by side, and the children, neither having brother or sister, were together all day. Then they went to the same kindergarten and afterward to the same school. Their first and only separation was when Donald went to college. They pined for each other, and he neglected his studies to write her long letters, receiving equally long replies. When the first examinations came on, though a bright fellow, he failed. This ended his college career. He returned to his love and was never again separated from her till half a century later, when death claimed her.

They were married when the groom was nineteen, the bride eighteen. A son was born to them and a daughter. The former lived; the latter died in infancy. Till the son came to manhood he remained with his parents. Then he broke away to engage in business at another location.

Even in their youth they had few intimate associates and after coming to middle age dropped away from anything social. Those who knew them wondered at this, for they were both attractive and popular. Efforts to get them into social undertakings always failed.

Mrs. Gregory died at seventy. It was a year after this that I made the acquaintance of their son, now a man of nearly fifty. Strange it is that with his parents' happy married life before him he never married. When his mother died he persuaded his father to come to live with him. I had made George Gregory's acquaintance some time before this, and when his father appeared on the scene George and I, both bachelors, were intimate, I being at his house frequently.

When I was introduced to his father I saw a handsome old gentleman with a florid complexion and white hair and mustache. It struck me that if I were a woman I would fall in love with him no matter what was his age. George told me of the close relationship between his father and his late mother, and when the latter died he feared his father would lose his reason. But his father seemed to settle down to an acceptance of his fate and in a measure apparently ceased to grieve. His son noticed something about him which he communicated to no one. I discovered it for myself.

One day when going to George Gregory's house I saw his father putting his night key into the door. He opened it, stepped back as if waiting for some one to enter, then went in himself. The matter made but little impression on me till later I heard the old gentleman talking to himself in the library. At first, thinking that he was reading aloud, I permitted myself to overhear him. I soon became aware that he was talking to some one whom he called "my dear." The two episodes together set me to wondering, and I narrated them to his son. George sighed and said:

"So you have noticed it. I have known that of which you have seen evidence ever since father came to live with me. He ever has my mother with him—just how I don't know. Whether he sees her spirit, whether he fancies that it is present with him, whether he hears her replies when he talks to her—all this is a puzzle to me. I have often heard him talking to her as you heard him, and he says the same things to her that he was used to saying while she lived, only they are more endearing. He was always during her life as gallant to her as when they were young lovers, and when he fancies she is with him he will not sit while she stands, will not go through a doorway without waiting till she has gone before him. I have seen him come into the house after having been out of an evening and remove her wraps as tenderly as he ever did while she was with him in the flesh. He had a way of sometimes walking with her hand in hand, and since her death I have often seen him swinging his arm through the empty air as I often saw him do it when I was a boy."

"Do you observe," I asked, "whether after apparently being with her he is more or less gloomy?"

"He is never what we call gloomy, though there is a certain sadness always in his eyes. It seems to me that Providence, in whose sight such lovely lives as were his and my mother's must be acceptable, has made some physical change in his brain which causes an illusion to comfort him till the day shall come when he will be reunited to her."

"Did it ever occur to you," I asked, "that the strong affection between him and your mother has enabled him to see and commune with her spirit?"

"It has," was the reply. "But I don't know."

Since then the same door has closed behind Donald Gregory that closed behind his wife.

GRAND OPERA FOR LOS ANGELES WILL BE GIVEN IN JANUARY

A season of music, no matter how representative, could hardly be considered quite complete without a series of operatic performances. For two weeks in early January Messrs. Behymer and Berr have combined forces for the presentation of nine operas, within a period of two weeks. The most suitable house in which to present grand opera is, of course, Clune's Auditorium, and it is a pleasure to announce the arrangements have been consummated with Mr. Clune, manager of this house, for these presentations.

Inasmuch as the directors propose that this season shall be an annual affair, they are preparing to present such operas as "La Boheme," "Mme. Butterfly," "La Tosca," "Carmen," "Love Tales of Hoffmann," and two or three of the standard popular favorites. By arrangement with Mr. George Maxwell, the American representative of the famous Ricordi publishing house, this plan has been consummated whereby this combination will be the only one having the exclusive rights to present these operas on the Pacific Coast this season.

The La Scala Company will number 134 people, exclusive of the orchestra of 50, under the baton of Guerrieri, without doubt the most popular leader ever brought to the Coast in opera. The scenery and costumes will be elaborate and entirely new; the chorus will be assembled from the best voices procurable.

As the principals arrive on this side announcement will be made of names, roles, etc., but Alice Nielsen, the well known popular soprano, will be a "guest star," singing, in addition to a number of the Italian roles, "The Bohemian Girl," in English, with full orchestration of 50 instruments. This will revive the delightful memories of other days before Nielsen left the light opera field for the more exacting one of grand opera.

Alice Gentle, a discovery of Hammerstein's already a favorite here, will be the dramatic soprano, and will also be heard in "Carmen," her finest role. She is bound to become a favorite during the season here, possessing a superb voice, fine histrionic ability, and much beauty.

Economy Hints

A penny saved is a penny earned.— Benjamin Franklin.

THE housewife makes a great moan because she has so many interruptions from tradesmen, so many calls from delivery boys and that her day is one long reception line to the grocer, the iceman, the butcher, the baker, the vegetable boy, etc. But viewing this reception line from the other end of the glasses, how about the time and trips the housewife wastes for each of these who bring her supplies? Is the delivery boy's time not worth something? Does it make no difference to the iceman if he has to stop the wagon, go round the entry and up the eight back steps for nothing?

Dealers in various lines have figured out the daily cost for their delivery service. Every call, every knock at the back door, has a definite cash value. The dealer ostensibly pays it, but ultimately it is the housewife consumer who pays it in higher prices. The more unnecessary delivery service the more the running expense of the dealer and hence less profit which he must make up somewhere else.

It is truly only the inefficient housewife who cannot master the daily tradesman situation. Phone calls demanding four or five deliveries a day indicate the sloppiest of wasteful management. Even with such thriftiness as vegetable peddlers a definite understanding can be made as to the two or three special days on which they are to call. The writer lived for the winter months in a somewhat fashionable suburb. Every day at about 8:30 a. m. an order boy called from each butcher, grocer, fish and vegetable store. What a waste of good shoe leather, because certainly if we need a box of cornstarch and a bottle of olive oil tomorrow we can perfectly well order them today. Or if we are living in any way removed from barbarians who know not where they are going to rush out and catch their next meal we can and must plan meals ahead.

But perhaps it is a poor iceman for whom our pity surges at this season. We hesitate to think that any woman looks with envy on the economic independence of the average iceman. Starting on his rounds at 3 a. m., alternately driving a clumsy wagon and handling and carrying hundreds of pounds of frozen water until late at night, sometimes as late as 10 o'clock on summer Saturday nights—cannot the housewife assist in alleviating his lot?

How many times we permit the iceman to come all the way around only to tell him as we take his time to look while he is there that we do not need any ice today. The card system is gaining foothold, but it should be more universal and strictly adhered to. If we need ice let us put out the card, but do not let us waste the iceman's time and that of his team in fruitless calls at our back door.

Hot Weather Comfort.

The pores should be left as wide open as possible if you do not wish to suffer excessively from the heat. This does not mean that you should never try to stop perspiration, because if your glands excrete too rapidly you will have to take some means of reducing your condition to a normal one.

Perspiration should not be allowed to remain on the body any longer than necessary, as it is not only unpleasant, but unhealthy. During warm weather bathing can scarcely be too frequent. Tepid baths are best of all during the hot weather, for hot baths are much too heating, and cold baths stimulate the circulation to such a degree that the after effects are positively glowing.

To regulate the flow of perspiration an astringent in the bath is less harmful than applying it directly to the skin. Alcohol is, of course, cooling and refreshing, but it is very apt to produce dry wrinkles because of its drying effect. Toilet waters are less inclined to do so, but if the skin shows any indications of dryness after using one a good cold cream must be rubbed in at once to restore the natural grease which the toilet water has absorbed.

Never apply powder till the skin is dry. Powder and moisture paste up skin pores, which should be kept open in order to excrete perfectly.

How to Use the Succulent Onion as Medicine.

Onions supply a complete cure in themselves for cold, as well as being a wonderful remedy in cases of insomnia. An onion cure breakfast includes a poached egg on toast, three tablespoonsful of fried onions and a cup of coffee. Luncheons of sandwiches made of brown bread, buttered and filled with fine chopped raw onion, seasoned with salt and pepper, make the second meal on the schedule. For the supper the onions may be fried as for breakfast and eaten with a chop and a baked potato. The efficacy of onions is well known to the singers of Italy and Spain, who eat them every day to improve the quality of their voices and keep them smooth. Onion plasters are prescribed to break up hard coughs. They are made of fried onion placed between two slices of old muslin. The plaster is kept quite hot until the patient is snugly in bed, when it is placed on the chest, to stay overnight. Onion sirup is claimed by some to be unequalled as a cure for a bad cold in the chest.

Safety First! Yes, First, Last And All the Time.

By MOSS.

"SAFETY first!" That's a SPLENDID slogan of the day. Let's apply it to our DAILY NEEDS.

Safety first means don't rush in where WISE FOLKS FEAR TO TREAD. Don't buy PROMISCUOUSLY.

If you were going to buy a house you'd want to know all about the properties in town for sale and all about the man you were dealing through.

If you wanted to buy a ring or a piano or a bathtub or a new dining room table or a box of soap or any of a thousand things you would like to be fully posted on where you could buy it the best and cheapest.

It's a NATURAL feeling—SAFETY FIRST!

Be sure you APPLY it. And what better way than through the ads. in this THOROUGHLY RELIABLE paper? Our business men have been using it for years to keep the public posted against SLAPSHOD METHODS of BUYING. All things considered, it is SAFETY FIRST to trade with the merchant who CONSISTENTLY and HONESTLY ADVERTISES.

Counties Market in 1746.

A quaint advertisement in the New York Weekly Post Boy of Dec. 8, 1746, gives an interesting view of the Counties market activity at that time:

"Peter De Joncourt, living near Counties market, having left off keeping tavern, continues to sell out of doors by small measure good old Madeira wine, Jamaica rum, French brandy, Batavia arrack and claret. He also sells by retail sundry sorts of dry goods, all sorts of spice, tea, coffee, raisins, sugars, etc. He likewise keeps very good accommodation for lodgers."

"N. B.—He will sell coffee by the half dozen pound or any large quantity at 17 pence half penny per pound."

Groundhog.

Teacher was telling her class little stories in natural history, and she asked if any one could tell her what a groundhog was. Up went a little hand, waving frantically.

"Well, Carl, you may tell us what a groundhog is."

"Please, na'am, it's sausage."—Everybody's Magazine.
